Dear Parent/Guardian,

As an introduction to our dinosaur topic, I have arranged for Reception Class to visit The Hancock Museum, in Newcastle, on Tuesday 8th May, to take part in a workshop which will enable us to find out more about dinosaurs and to explore the museum itself- which has a range of other exhibitions including animals, the Egyptians, geology and some links to space.

We will depart school at 9:15am and arrive back for home time at 3:15pm. Children should wear comfortable, sensible shoes and normal school uniform.

School will provide a packed lunch but you are welcome to provide an extra drink (not fizzy) and a healthy snack to have during the morning.

In terms of cost, we will use the school minibuses to transport us to and from the museum, however, there is a cost for us to access the dinosaur resources. We would therefore be grateful of a contribution of £3.

There is a small shop that we would be able to visit, however, having visited the shop myself at the weekend, it is not cheap. There are a few nice things available for around £4. I understand that this is quite costly and I will therefore make a decision as to whether we visit the shop based on your response. On the slip below, I would appreciate if you would tick as to whether you would be happy for your child to visit the shop or not. I will let you know either way by the end of the week.

I apologise for only providing a week's notice, but I wanted to visit the museum to make sure that it was suitable prior to arranging the visit, especially as the planetarium, which I was hoping to explore, is not currently open as a result of a software issue.

Please complete and return the permission slip below. If you fail to do so your child may not be able to visit the park.

I am sure that we will find out lots of interesting things that the children will be able to feedback.

Thank you for your support,
Miss Richardson
